14 ORDER GRANTING PLAINTIFFS'
APPLICATION TO PROCEED IN
FORMA PAUPERIS

15 REPORT & RECOMMENDATION

16 INTRODUCTION

17 On January 25, 2016, Plaintiffs Robert B. and Lyudmilla V. Stowe ("Plaintiffs") filed a 18 Complaint and an Application to Proceed In Forma Pauperis. Compl., Dkt. No. 1; Appl., Dkt. No.
19 3. For the reasons stated below, the Court GRANTS the Application to Proceed In Forma
20 Pauperis. As Plaintiffs did not yet consent to the jurisdiction of a United States Magistrate Judge
pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 636(c), the Clerk of Court shall REASSIGN this case to a District Judge, with the recommendation that the Complaint be DISMISSED WITH LEAVE TO AMEND.

21 BACKGROUND

22 Although they do not state any causes of action, Plaintiffs appear to challenge the 23 foreclosure of their residential mortgage and subsequent trustee sale of their residence. They 24 allege JP Morgan Chase Bank "sold a 1st Mortgage Loan, that was in my wife's name, to LSF9
25 Master Participation Trust and the loan servicing to Caliber Home Loans" on February 26, 2015.
26 Compl. at 6. Caliber Home Loans subsequently "put the loan into foreclosure." Id. Although 27 their home was scheduled for auction on July 2, 2015, they submitted a loss mitigation package to
28 Caliber, and the auction was called off. Id. Plaintiffs submitted a second loss mitigation package

1 to Caliber on September 23, 2015. Id. However, their home was sold at auction on September 24,
2 2015. Id. Plaintiffs bring their Complaint against Defendants LSF9 Master Participation Trust,
3 Caliber Home Loans, Trustee Corps, and US Bank Trust, alleging the auction was wrongful and 4 should not have occurred.

5 APPLICATION TO PROCEED IN FORMA PAUPERIS

6 Pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1915, a district court may authorize the commencement of a civil
7 action in forma pauperis if it is satisfied that the would-be plaintiff cannot pay the filing fees
8 necessary to pursue the action. 28 U.S.C. § 1915(a)(1). Here, Plaintiffs submitted the required
9 documentation, and it is evident from the application that the listed assets and income are 10 insufficient to enable Plaintiffs to pay the filing fees. Accordingly, the Court GRANTS the 11 Application to Proceed In Forma Pauperis.

12 SUA SPONTE SCREENING UNDER 28 U.S.C. § 1915(e)(2)

13 A. Legal Standard

14 A district court must dismiss the complaint of an in forma pauperis applicant if it
15 determines the complaint is frivolous, fails to state a claim upon which relief can be granted, or 16 seeks monetary relief against a defendant who is immune from such relief. 28 U.S.C. §
17 1915(e)(2)(B). To make this determination, courts assess whether there is a factual and legal basis
18 for the asserted wrong, “however inartfully pleaded.” Franklin v. Murphy, 745 F.2d 1221, 1227-
19 28 (9th Cir. 1984). Further, district courts have the authority to dismiss complaints founded on 20 “wholly fanciful” factual allegations. Id. at 1228.

21 Rule 8(a)(2) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure requires that the complaint set forth a
22 “short and plain statement of the claim showing the pleader is entitled to relief.” Rule 8(d)(1)
23 requires that each allegation in a pleading be “simple, concise, and direct.” See McHenry v.
24 Renne, 84 F.3d 1172, 1177, 1179 (9th Cir. 1996) (affirming dismissal of complaint that was 25 “argumentative, prolix, replete with redundancy, and largely irrelevant”). In addition, the 26 complaint must include facts which are “more than labels and conclusions, and a formulaic
27 recitation of the elements of a cause of action will not do.” Bell Atl. Corp. v. Twombly, 550 U.S.
28 554, 555 (2007). For instance, in Ashcroft v. Iqbal, the Supreme Court rejected conclusory

1 assertions that “petitioners ‘knew of, condoned, and willfully and maliciously agreed to subject
2 [him]’ to harsh conditions of confinement ‘as a matter of policy, solely on the account of [his]
3 religion, race, and/or national origin and for no legitimate penological interest.’” 556 U.S. 662,
4 680 (2009). The Court reasoned that such allegations were akin to the “formulaic recitation of the 5 elements” dismissed in Twombly, and therefore, insufficient to meet Rule 8(a). Id. In doing so,
6 the Court explained, “[a] claim has facial plausibility when the plaintiff pleads factual content that
7 allows the court to draw the reasonable inference that the defendant is liable for the misconduct
8 alleged.” Id. at 678.

9 When dismissing a case, the Ninth Circuit has “repeatedly held that a district court should 10 grant leave to amend even if no request to amend the pleading was made, unless it determines that 11 the pleading could not possibly be cured by the allegation of other facts.” Lopez v. Smith, 203
12 F.3d 1122, 1130 (9th Cir. 2000). Pro se pleadings are liberally construed. Haines v. Kerner, 404
13 U.S. 519, 520-21 (1972); Balistreri v. Pacifica Police Dep’t, 901 F.2d 696, 699 (9th Cir. 1988).
14 Thus, unless it is clear that no amendment can cure the defects of a complaint, a pro se plaintiff
15 proceeding in forma pauperis is entitled to notice and an opportunity to amend before dismissal.
16 Noll v. Carlson, 809 F.2d 1446, 1448 (9th Cir. 1987).

17 B. Application to the Case at Bar

18 Having reviewed their Complaint, the Court finds Plaintiffs may have one or more viable
19 claims against some or all of the four named Defendants, yet they do not identify which Defendant
20 they propose to hold liable for each such claim. While Plaintiffs do directly link some individual
21 Defendants to some of their allegations, for the most part they do not allege facts showing what 22 each of the four named Defendants did or failed to do. Further, Plaintiffs do not allege any 23 specific claims, instead stating generally that the Court has federal question jurisdiction pursuant 24 to “§1331 title 28 chapter 85,” and seeking $15,000 in compensation “because of monies spent of 25 defending ourselves in a Unlawful Detainer action,” as well as requesting the Court “invalidate the 26 auction.” Compl. at 4, 8.

27 In sum, even when Plaintiffs’ claims are liberally construed, they fail to provide adequate
28 information for the Court to determine whether the allegations in the Complaint state cognizable

1 claims for relief with respect to each of the four named Defendants. Despite this, the Court
2 recognizes that it may not “dismiss a pro se complaint without leave to amend unless ‘it is
3 absolutely clear that the deficiencies of the complaint could not be cured by amendment.’” Akhtar
4 v. Mesa, 698 F.3d 1202, 1212 (9th Cir. 2012) (citation omitted). Therefore, given Plaintiffs’ pro
5 se status, the undersigned finds it appropriate to grant Plaintiffs leave to file an amended
6 complaint in which they clearly link each Defendant to the alleged injury, or injuries, for which
7 that Defendant is alleged to be responsible. To comply with Rule 8(a), Plaintiffs must include (1)
8 a short and plain statement of the grounds for the court’s jurisdiction; (2) a short and plain
9 statement of the claim showing that the pleader is entitled to relief; and (3) a demand for the relief
10 sought. A pleading may not simply allege a wrong has been committed and demand relief; it must 11 state allegations supporting the elements of the claim plainly and succinctly. Plaintiffs must allege
12 with at least some degree of particularity the facts in which each of the named Defendants engaged 13 to support their claims. Jones v. Cnty. Redev. Agency, 733 F.2d 646, 649 (9th Cir. 1984).

14 CONCLUSION

15 Based on the analysis above, the Court GRANTS the Application to Proceed In Forma
16 Pauperis. As Plaintiffs did not yet consent to the jurisdiction of a United States Magistrate Judge
17 pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 636(c), the Clerk of Court shall REASSIGN this case to a District Judge,
18 with the recommendation that the Complaint be DISMISSED WITH LEAVE TO AMEND.

19 Pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 72, any party may serve and file objections to 20 this Report and Recommendation within 14 days after being served.
